Spray Name Plate with oil. Unroll refrigerator dough onto Name Plate. Pour in your choice of pie filling.

Whisk egg and brush on edge of pie crust. Then lay the second pie crust on top and seal shut. Brush top crust with egg wash and add a slit to release steam.

WHAT'S IN A NAME

Name plates made at Fine Field Pottery are custom made to order. They make wonderful, unique gifts and once made can be shared for generations in a family if handled with care.

There are several options for you to consider when ordering a name plate:

1. Who is it going to? The person you are gifting will receive a stoneware plate surrounded by the meaning of their name. For instance the name Florence means “blossoming, flowering.” We research each name and work with you on choosing the exact words on the rim of the plate.
2. Is it for a Wedding or Anniversary? Add the name of the couple and date of the celebration.
3. Or perhaps you just want a company name on it.
4. Finally, choose the color for the lettering? We work with a variety of colors and strive to find what works for you. The base color of the plate is done in a glaze called “nutmeg” and it is a soft creamy beige with specks of brown.

The plate itself:

Is 8 inches wide and two inches tall, perfect for your favorite pie or small casserole. It is dishwasher, microwave, and oven safe. We only caution on using it in extreme temperature variations. For instance, do not take a frozen plate and subject it to oven temperatures. Always allow the plate to come to room temperature before use.

What if the meaning of the name is not what you want?

Sometimes the meaning of a name is not what you want on a plate. For instance someone named “Geraldine” might not want her plate to say “rules with a spear.” Instead, we suggest writing the name using the letters in the name to highlight attributes. For instance:

Generous, Exciting, Reasonable, Always, Loving, Devoted, Insightful, Neat, Encouraging-Geraldine.

Once we receive your order we will email you and work with you to determine the name and the meaning on each plate. Plates cost $40 (additional shipping and handling charges apply.)
